

Neuroscience Research Paper 14

We develop a novel neural probe technology for chronic multi-region recordings in freely moving rodents. Our flexible polymer electrode arrays minimize tissue damage and maintain signal quality for months.