

Ancient History Research Paper 13

This paper examines the social and economic impact of the Black Death on medieval European societies. We analyze demographic records, price indices, and labor legislation to assess long-term structural changes.